About

One of the most important issues to realize for newcomers to the conspiracy scene is that there essentially is no such thing as a free alternative media. As an honest, independent investigator it's next to impossible to get any circulation for your work, especially since Google censorship kicked in from 2015, while persons revolving around major shows as Coast to Coast AM, Rense and Infowars, who peddle a steady stream of disinformation, are often making the New York Times best-sellers list. This section of ISGP keeps an eye on alternative media outlets and disinformation.
